Dr. Devilbiss Heads Evaluation Committee

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss is to serve as chairman of the Visiting Committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to evaluate the St. Michaels High School in Talbot County. The survey will be held from Monday, March 11 through Thursday, March 14. The faculty of the school has been at work for some time in preparing the evaluative material for the committee. The areas that such a survey cover are the philosophy of the school, pupil activities program, guidance service, library services, school plant, the school staff and administration.

Members serving with Dr. Devilbiss on the committee are Mr. Omar J. Jones, Principal, Howard County Senior High School, Ellicott City, Assistant Chairman; Miss Mabel Conaway, Henry C. Conrad High School, Woodcrest, Wilmington, Delaware; Mr. William C. Graham, Supervisor of High Schools for Cecil County, Elkton; Mr. Charles Hudson, Suitland Junior-Senior High School, Prince George's County, Maryland; Miss K. Connor Jones, Eastern Junior-Senior High School, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Henry J. Kanowicz, Principal, High School, Union Bridge, Maryland; Dr. Ber-

"Let's Look at Tomorrow" Topic for Assembly

This college is privileged to have as a guest speaker on March 27, Mr. Louis P. Shannon, manager of the DuPont Company's Extension Division. Mr. Shannon, widely known speaker on industrial and chemical developments, will present a lecture entitled "Let's Look at Tomorrow."

In his lecture, Mr. Shannon will tell the story of American progress by exhibiting developments resulting from scientific research and will explain how their production strengthens the national economy. He will display some chemical developments which are so new as to still be in the experimental stage.

Mr. Shannon was previously an educator and school administrator, receiving his masters degree from the University of Florida. In the past seven years, Mr. Shannon has appeared before more than 500 groups, including universities, civic groups, and technical societies.

STC Delegates Attend Conference at Columbia

On Wednesday, March 13 (today), three students and Mrs. A. L. Fleming are leaving for New York where they will attend the thirty-third annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association held at Columbia University. Sponsored by the Publications Staffs of the college, Joanne Cathell and Helen Layman will attend the newspaper division meetings and Helen Mae Ellis will attend the yearbook sessions.

During a three day period, March 14, 15, and 16, they will attend meetings, conferences, discussions and clinics in which all phases of writing, editing, publishing and advising student publications will be covered. Personalities from public and professional life will speak at the general meetings, at the special features and at the Waldorf Astoria luncheon, the concluding highlight of the whole convention.

The objective of the convention is to instruct and present helpful criticism to aid students in producing mature and informative publications.

Yearbook Scheduled To Arrive in May

"The last deadline of the Evergreen was met on March 1, 1957," states Charlotte Lynch, editor of the 1957 edition of the college yearbook. The edition will feature all phases of college life here at STC, including campus organizations, activities, sports and campus leaders.

The budget has been greatly supplemented by the very successful advertising campaign.

Two Faculty Members Attend Core Conference

Dr. Carolyn Dunlap and Mr. James DiVirgilio attended a core conference at Dumbarton Junior High School, Towson, Maryland, on March 1 and 2. The purpose of the conference, which was attended by over four hundred teachers, supervisors, and representatives of the United States Office of Education, was to exchange ideas on core curriculum on a regional basis, to bring together people who are interested in core curriculum, and to develop and improve this type of curriculum.

Mr. DiVirgilio served as the chairman of the methods and technique problem-solving discussion group. Two of the most outstanding speakers of this conference were Dr. Harold R. Benjamin, formerly at the University of Maryland and now at George Peabody College, and Mr. Howard B. Peters, who spoke on "The Seven Qualities of a Good Teacher."

Cultural Affairs Committee Planning Two Convocations

The Cultural Affairs Committee is planning to inaugurate with the coming fall two annual convocations.

The first convocation will be held early in September, presenting an off-campus speaker of eminence. A theme will be chosen by the committee, to set sights for the year academically and to give inspiration to both students and faculty.

The second convocation will be held during the first week of the second semester.

Plans Formulated for Future Campus Programs

The Cultural Affairs Committee has announced its plans for assemblies and concerts for the second semester of the school year.

On March 8 at 8:00 P.M. the second in the series of Baltimore Symphony Concerts will be given. On March 27, Mr. Louis Shannon, a duPont speaker, will be heard in assembly. The second annual Honors Day Assembly, which has become a tradition at State Teachers College, will be held on April 9. The Christian Association will sponsor the Easter Assembly on April 16.

On April 22, the Tuscon Boys Choir will be here. The Maryland State Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Clarice Michael, will present an assembly on April 25. SGA election speeches will be given on May 1. On May 20, the College Chorus Concert will be held.

In the middle of March an assembly will be given, at which time the inspiring lecturer and well-known artist, Grant Reynard, will speak on painting. Mr. Reynard will give a demonstration lecture, and will exhibit a few of his etchings and lithographs.

The Cultural Affairs Committee is presently sitting in on discussion.

Discussion Group Studies Philosophy

The Philosophy Club, which will meet on the first and third Monday of every month, will hold its first session on Monday evening, March 18, at 8:00 P.M., in Room 131.

The meetings will be very informal, and of a conversational nature, enhanced by a friendly, relaxed atmosphere. Dr. William H. Wroten will act as moderator.

The primary interest of this newly organized club is to study the rudiments of philosophy. Upon completion of this achievement, the club will consider individual philosophers, and compare and discuss their teachings.

The club is open to all students interested in philosophy. There will be no required readings relating to the conversational topic, and attendance is purely voluntary.

The topic for discussion at the first meeting will be "Ethics" and the "Philosophy of Man." Thereafter, topics will be chosen by the group.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

The time has come to take a long, critical look at the organization of SGA, in light of the revision of the SGA constitution that is presently being written. This new constitution can be a step forward toward a stronger and better organized student organization, or it can result in the same narrow path in which the SGA has been rooted.

A student government organization can only be as strong as student support and its own internal organization make it. The present SGA constitution is being completely rewritten and reorganized, but it is being based upon the old constitution. Shouldn't this old skeleton be buried, to allow new thinking and new organization to take place in the newly-written constitution? The new constitution can be a progressive and broad step toward the future, if it is not hindered by a basic pattern rooted in the past.

Under the present organization of the SGA, each class and each organization is allowed a representative, who in reality is representing a group and not the individual student. The average student is represented in SGA at least three times, through the Dormitory Associations, the Day Associations, the Athletic Associations, and by whatever other organizations of which the student may be a member.

How effective is this multi-representation? Is the student truly expressing his opinions and ideas through these many organizations which claim to represent him? Is the membership of SGA too large to work effectively? These are questions the SGA committee rewriting the constitution need to consider if a constitution is to be written that is not a carbon copy of constitutions of the past.

Salary Increase Program Submitted by MSTA

[Resume of an article appearing in the January issue of The Maryland Teacher, page 9.]

By JOANNE CATHELL

The Maryland State Teachers Association is the group behind the Legislative Program now being acted upon by the Maryland General Assembly concerning teachers salaries in the state. This MSTA program, submitted to Governor McKeldin and the Legislature includes the following items: (1) an increase of $800 in the state minimum salary for teachers, (2) an increase in the faculty salaries and an expanded construction program at the five state teachers colleges and (3) correction of the annuity discrepancy in the Retirement System.

This $800 increase would raise the present schedule of $2800-$4600 to $3200-$5000 in September, 1957 and to $3600-$5400 in 1958. It would be on a direct basis of $800 per teacher over the two year period. New scales are also being asked for principals and supervisors. Over a two year period the cost of the salary program would be approximately $22,000,000.

Faculty salaries at the five state teachers colleges will be reviewed, as requested by the State Board of Education. The Board has also asked for $4,700,000 for essential capital improvements at the institutions.

The proposal for correction in the Retirement System would guarantee 1/70 for each year of service and would grant county teachers a retirement allowance of 1/2 of salary after 35 years of service or at the age of 60 or thereafter. The annual cost of this proposal is $80,000.

The program is also backed by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the State Board of Education has expressed interest and concern.

Well-Known Painter To Visit on Campus

The Cultural Affairs Committee has invited Grant Reynard, widely known painter and lecturer, to present his interesting program before the student body and faculty members on March 18 and 19.

Mr. Reynard is especially adept at commanding the attention of his audience, and his lecture, "Enjoyment of Paintings, Old and New," is presented in a fresh, whimsical, and enthusiastic way. His primary concern in visiting the college is to "acquaint students with the tools and the media, the traditions and history of art, but let's not insist as teachers that we know the best way to make art." He hopes to provide an inspiration to the artists of the future, instill an active appreciation, and present a comprehensive picture of contemporary art. In addition to his illustrated lecture, he will give a lecture-demonstration in oil or water color while he conducts a forum with his audience.

S.C.A. Delegates Attend Conference

On February 25, representatives of the Student Christian Association attended a regional meeting of the Christian Association at Delaware State College. Representatives also attended from Maryland State College, and Delaware State College. The object of this meeting was to decide whether or not to have a spring rally, which would be similar to the one held last fall on this campus. Those representing STC were Betty Lee Shawn, Ernest Fuchs, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank White. Mr. White is advisor to the Christian Association.

FTA Delegates to Attend Convention in New York City

Four student delegates from STC are leaving on Thursday, March 21 for the convention of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers, which will be held in New York City. Students attending are Miss Carolyn Cramer, senior; Miss Debra Peters, freshman; Mr. Wayne Smith, junior; and Mr. J. H. Williams, a junior.

Accompanying the students are Dr. Leila Stevens and Mr. James DiVirgilio, faculty members from the department of education.

The convention will be held on March 21, 22, and 23. Headquarters are in the Hotel New Yorker. Social functions include a dinner at New York University and a tea at Columbia University.

Discussion groups will consider problems of the student preparing to teach and the role of the teacher in the social order. A feature of the convention is a series of guided tours of New York City.

FACULTY HERE AND THERE STUDENTS

By Janice Hubbard

Miss Deanne Asplen of Cambridge was the week-end guest of Carolyn Stamper on February 23. On April 8 the Ladies Ensemble will sing at Federalsburg Rotary Club, Federalsburg, Md.

Dr. Carolyn Dunlap and Mr. James DiVirgilio attended the Third Regional Conference of Core Teachers at Dumbarton Junior High School, March 1-2.

Dr. Mary L. Francis has sufficiently recovered from a broken foot to resume her duties at college.

Jo Patterson was the week-end guest of Joan Cowan at Public Landing.

Dr. Earl T. Willis, Dean of Instruction, attended the annual sessions of the Association for Higher Education held in Chicago from March 4-7. The Association for Higher Education is an affiliate of the National Education Association to which all institutions of higher education may belong.

On March 15 Dr. Leila Stevens, Dr. Robert Elderdice, and Miss Ruth Bennett will present a program before the Fine Arts Study Group of the American Association of University Women. The program will be on poetry.

Recent guests of Helen Mae Ellis at her home were Doty Shaw and Lou Lambden.

On March 9 Clara Kay Cropper did several tap and toe tap numbers at a dance given by the Delmar Lions Club.

Sport Beat

By Gary White

Who has the toughest position to play in the sports world? Is it the man on the hot corner, the guy in the center of the line, the quarterback, or maybe the La Crosse player? Well, I'll pick the hockey goalie.

Can you imagine a man six feet, three inches tall and weighing 205 pounds bearing down on you at approximately twenty-five miles per hour. To make it even worse, the puck he's going to fire at you will probably hit better than 100 MPH. That's what the goalies face in the National Hockey League every week. That 205 pound form is Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens. He is one of the many great players in their league who give goalies such as Don Simmons of Boston and Lorne Worsley of New York many jittery moments.

A couple of years ago, Chuck Rayner of the New York Rangers retired. During his playing career, he had 57 stitches taken in his face. Just this current season, perhaps the best goalie in the business today retired, due to the strain. He is Terry Sawchuck of the Boston Bruins.

Besides Beliveau, there are such men as Gordie Howe and "Terrible" Ten Lindsay of the Detroit Red Wings, Dick Littenberg of the Chicago Black Hawks, and Maurice "The Rocket" Richard of Montreal that plague the men in the nets.

Richard has been one of the colorful players in ice hockey. Two years ago, when he was suspended, it caused a riot in Montreal. Mr. Irving Campbell, president of the league, was slugged by irate fans and the whole town was in a turmoil.

Ice hockey is a colorful sport, and Canadian and American fans really love it.

Chorus Will Sing at Presbyterian Church

The College Chorus and the Ladies Ensemble have accepted an invitation to sing at the Wicomico Presbyterian Church in Salisbury, on the evening of March 18.

At this time, the Wilmington Synod of the Presbyterian Church is holding one of a series of preaching missions. Delegates from the entire peninsula are expected to attend.

The Ladies Ensemble's selections are "How Lovely Is The Word of Jesus," by Roff and "Were You There," a spiritual arranged by Birligh. The Chorus will sing "Unfold Ye Portals," an excerpt from "The Redemption" by Charles Gounod.

Track and Basball Teams Are Being Formed

As the basketballs and nets are being put away for another year the thoughts of S.T.C. men turn to baseball and track.

According to some of S.T.C.'s baseball players, the team should be better than last season's. Many of the veterans are back to claim their positions while several new members will be out to show their strength. Coach Maggs is anxious to have all newcomers who are interested. No schedule has been disclosed thus far for the season.

Spring also brings on the track and field season. It seems that a lot of enthusiasm is being shown among the runners and fieldmen. Mr. Farace is again coaching track as he did last year. It is hoped that more meets can be scheduled this year than were previously scheduled. Bulletins have already been put up to notify track candidates.

If any new men are interested they should get in touch with Mr. Farace.

S.T.C. Bowling Champs Honored at Banquet

To culminate the activities of S.T.C.'s bowling league, a banquet was held on Wednesday evening, February 27. At that time, Dr. Devilbiss presented a trophy given by the W.A.A. to the winning team, the Demons. Members of this team were Sue Magee, Barbara Mumford, Jack Potter, and Murray Smith. In addition, personal trophies given by Shore Lane Alleys were presented to Barbara Disharoon and Jack Potter for highest averages, 94.2 and 104.7, respectively.

The tournament terminated on December 10 after 20 games had been played. Barbara Mumford, this year's manager, said that there are plans for another bowling league next year.

The team trophy is now on display in the main office. However, plans are being made to revamp the showcase in the front hall by next September, at which time the trophy will be transferred to the case.

Sunshine

Over the bay, waves are thrashing,
 Among them flying fish are dashing.
 In the sky, clouds are drifting by
 Schooner-like and sailing high.
 In the fields larks are singing,
 O, How their little hearts are ringing.
 To all, the sun lends a golden glitter,
 The world forgets cares olden and bitter,
 And for a while, wears a smile.

Women's Volleyball Team Ends Season in Second Place

Monday, March 4, the last volleyball game of the season was played, in which Hebron defeated S.T.C.'s varsity volleyball team. The varsity came in second place in the tournaments and achieved second place in the playoffs.

The whole team is to be congratulated on their fine season. The squad includes the following members: Alice Colbeck, Carole Kirkwood, Rose Lewis, Barbara Mumford, Ruth Neilson, Jo Patterson, Nettie Stern, Norma Lee Trice, and Mary Jane Wright.

STC Girls Lose First Games in Three Years

On Wednesday, February 20, both Varsity and Junior Varsity were defeated by the Notre Dame girls' basketball team. The passes of Lucy Hitt, Dolores Cooling, and Ruth Neilson may have been exceptionally accurate; however, those of Notre Dame were better.

Ruth Neilson on the Varsity squad gained a total of 16 points during the game. Joyce Bennett, top scorer on the Junior Varsity, gained a total of 15 points. The score of the Notre Dame game was 44-30, 32-28.

On Friday, February 28, STC's varsity girls defeated Wesley Junior College at Wesley. The game ended with Salisbury leading by 19 points; the score was 62-43. Coming to the foreground was Helen Mae Ellis scoring 20 points during the game.

STC CAGERS LOSE TO GOLDEY-BEACOM

The S.T.C. cagers finished the season's schedule against the powerful team of Goldey Beacom College. The local men fought desperately to claim a victory for Coach Maggs to welcome him back, but the opposition proved too powerful.

High scorer for the Gulls was Charles Muir who hit for 20 markers. Charlie has hit double figures in every one of this year's games. Raymond Battersby followed Muir with 6 tallies. High man for Goldey Beacom had 19 points while his closest teammate hit for 18.

The first half of the game proved to be all in favor of the men of Wilmington who scored 43 points against the Gulls who scored only 26 points.

The second half found the Gulls making a gallant stand and allowing only 29 points but being able to acquire only 25 points themselves. The final whistle blew with S.T.C. on the short end of a 72-51 score.

The score:
 Goldey Beacom — 72
 Goldstein, f, 2-1-5; Tambarelli, f, 5-0-10; Tyborowsky, f, 1-0-2; Holland, c, 2-0-4; Malkin, g, 8-3-10; Snyder, g, 5-0-10; Biasotto, g, 0-2-2; Oberly, g, 8-2-18; Guinta, g, 1-0-2. (Totals 32-8-72.)
 State Teachers College—51
 Mills, f, 2-0-4; Rush, f, 2-0-4; Hill, f, 0-1-1; Roberts, f, 2-0-4; Muir, c, 8-4-20; Battersby, c, 3-0-6; Comer, g, 2-1-5; Smith, g, 2-1-5; Marshall, g, 0-2-2; Potter, g, 0-0-0. (Totals 21-9-51.)

"The Two Mrs. Carrolls" Staged by Theater Group

Last week the Community Players of Salisbury presented the Martin Vale mystery, "The Two Mrs. Carrolls," for a three evening run. The play is an outmoded, nineteen thirty-ish vehicle that is rather dull and in spots decidedly shoddy. Miss Dolores Miller in the leading role of Sally Carroll held forth beautifully in sustaining the action and projected the part of the terrified wife with marked skill. Miss Miller was ably assisted by James Hall (Mr. Carroll) who, though stiff, was more than adequate.

Bouquets are due Miss Audrey Stewart, Mrs. Mae Thornton, Mrs. Richard Cullen and Fred Thomas for their characterizations. Their acting frequently provided bright spots in the rather tired places. Miss Stewart is notably to be commended for her French maid "bit," which afforded realism when it was most sorely needed.

The sets and decor earned well-deserved plaudits, and the effect in toto was highly pleasing. Let us hope that a more discriminating selection of plays in the future will provide for a richer theater experience. —J. W.

PLANS FORMULATED FOR FUTURE CAMPUS PROGRAMS

cussion meetings planning the programs for the next school year. There will definitely be a series of assembly programs, beginning with the President's Assembly the first week of school. The second program will be the first Fall Convocation Assembly.

A series of informal after-dinner coffee hours are planned, at which time people in the community, in addition to faculty members, will be heard in informal discussion periods on subjects which are the speakers major fields of interest.

The committee is considering a movie series built around a theme such as the history of the movie or a problem theme. Also being considered are a series of art exhibits, and the acquisition, as funds allow, of reproductions of masterpieces.

The faculty members of the Cultural Affairs Committee are: Mrs. Frances Fleming, chairman; Mrs. Chaires, Dr. Jessie Fleming, Miss Purnell, Dr. Wroten, Mr. DiVirgilio, Dr. Whitney, and Mr. Farace. Student members are Helen Layman, editor of the Holly Leaf; Barbara Mumford, president of the College Chorus; Jack Weise, president of the Christian Association; and George Mason, chairman of the Assembly Committee.

The Living Paradox

ROOSEVELT IN RETROSPECT (399 pp.)—John Gunther—Harper & Brothers (1950).

John Gunther, noted journalist and author, is among the group of writers who have been fascinated by Franklin D. Roosevelt's personality and career. And, so being, hypnotized by the late president's brilliance, they have attempted to search in the dark realms of psychology and discover a scientific formula to explain FDR and his beliefs. Gunther admits, however, "It is difficult to summarize in a single word what he stood for . . . He was multiplex and multiform . . ."

Unconsciously, the author is saying that Roosevelt was a living paradox; perhaps that is why he is becoming such a controversial figure. He was looked upon for strength in national crisis, yet he was crippled. His policies were revolutionary in thought, but he was no intellect. Humane in character, he often was criticized for lack of candor and for deviousness. He worked ceaselessly; still he was verbally attacked for relying too much upon others. These and other attributes constitute the muddle over FDR.

A contract is noted between FDR and Theodore Roosevelt; Teddy being more boisterous and bellicose. Wilson was another significant figure in FDR's life and the influence of Wilson was quite profound. Probably the person with the greatest influence was FDR's mother. She was domineering, and when Franklin married Eleanor, the two women were subconsciously pitted like wildcats waging a battle over his affection. And, of course, the biographer cannot omit Eleanor, the crutch for Franklin throughout his life.

After meticulously expounding upon the personality of the subject, the historian attempts to concisely review Roosevelt's eventful life. The early life and career is related fully, but after the first inauguration of FDR, Gunther fails to maintain the high level of writing and organization. Gunther glides over the later years as if they were insignificant, and these years were the most important times in his life. The only deviation from this latter trend is in the discussion of the meetings at Yalta and the conference with Churchill from which evolved the Atlantic Charter.

In summation, the reviewer can state that the author is definitely pro-Roosevelt, and the book would be particularly enjoyed by those persons who like Roosevelt. It is rich with adjectives, phrases, and anecdotes describing FDR; the content is weak in some sections. Despite its shortcomings, the biography is elucidating and quite enjoyable. —Wayne Smith

Call O' Whistling Swan

Before migrating at the dawn,
Call o' whistling swan.
Your migration will be long,
So leave in memory a song.

Call o' whistling swan,
At the beauty of the dawn.
For your large, but graceful wings
will carry far away,
Tomorrow your songs of today.
O, whistling swan, will you not stay?
Why must you stray away in the morning gray?

YEARBOOK SCHEDULED TO ARRIVE IN MAY

Much time and effort have been given by the staff toward producing a successful and an attractive yearbook. Many pictures of campus life taken by student photographers under the capable direction of Mr. Benn Maggs will appear throughout the annual.

The staff is headed by Charlotte Lynch, editor, and Barbara Caine, associate editor. Shirley Downes, Mary Jane Wright, Joanne Cathell and Dave Barry have acted as copyright editors while Dolores Cooling, Phillip Moore, Alice Colbeck, Barbara Caine and Henry Hausdorf worked out the lay-out. Helen Ellis and Patsy Miller are art editors with Ruth Nielson as business manager, Bill Landon, Jimmy Henderson, Charlotte Ralph, Connie Mears and Charles Coulbourne serving as the advertising committee. Thomas Cropper, Edwin Smith, and Mr. Benn Maggs are in charge of photography and Dr. John May is the advisor.

Delivery of the Evergreen will be made in the middle of May and each student will receive a copy.

lege at Princess Anne, Maryland on May 4, 1957. The activities planned for this meeting can be divided into two portions. The first portion, which will be held in the morning, will pertain to an introduction to the Student Christian Movement. A guest speaker will deliver a talk, which will be attended by all representatives.

First Science Club Initiated on Campus

The first Science Club of State Teachers College was formed by the joint efforts of interested faculty and students. The object of this club is to explore the various fields of science to a greater extent than can be done in the classroom. The meetings are set upon a seminar basis with a subject in each field of science taken one at a time.

The club not only plans to carry on their work through seminar meetings, but also through varied projects to be done by individuals and by the group together. The club also hopes to invite many interesting speakers to promote discussions on today's world of science.

The newly formed organization has undertaken as it's first project the explanation of the college's telescope including telescopic observations and reports on astronomy. A few members of the group are planning to set up a weather station on campus. Some others plan to investigate and experiment with radio.

Since the first meeting of the membership of the club has grown considerably. All interested students and faculty members are invited to join. Mr. James Glenn and Mr. Eugene Farace are advisors to the group.
